

DON'T LET YOUR SECURITY INVESTMENT WAIT

Security needs don't pause because budgets are tight, approvals take time, or funding doesn't align with the project timeline.

Security Priorities Can't Always Wait for the Next Budget Cycle

If you're like many organizations today, you are facing:

- Tighter budgets
- Growing security demands
- Rising technology and hardware costs
- Longer approval cycles for major purchases
- Unexpected renewals, upgrades, and project needs
- Pressure to delay or reduce projects because of available funding

But delaying a needed security investment can create its own challenges.

Keep the Project Moving

FlexPay gives approved customers another way to structure their investment, helping reduce the burden of a large upfront payment and create greater payment predictability.

Instead of waiting for the next budget cycle, reducing project scope, or putting an important security initiative on hold, FlexPay gives you another path forward.

With Flexpay, you can:

Move Forward Now

Reduce Upfront Costs

Maintain Project Scope

Plan with Predictability

Because Your Security Investment Shouldn't Have to Wait

Get the security you need. Keep the project moving. Pay over time.

FlexPay is available to approved applicants. Eligibility, financing terms, payment structures, and conditions may vary. Contact Intellicene for additional information.
